If You Want Access to Real-time Visualizations, Archived Data, and Performance Measurement Analytics:

These steps will allow you to gain access to RITIS & the PDA Suite:

- 1) First, create a RITIS account – you will need to create a RITIS account using your agency email address through this link to gain access to RITIS. After you have requested an account, UMD’s CATT Lab will verify your information and send an email with a link to activate your account. Please remember the username and password with which you register; you will not be able to activate your account without them.
Note: Your RITIS account will only include access to real-time visualizations until you have submitted a completed DUA from Step 2 on the prior page.
- 2) Once a DUA form has been completed, submitted, and approved, you will then receive access to the PDA Suite.
